Love Conquering Darkness

Dear Friend in Christ,

Beauty and Power: two things that go together when you stand beneath the night sky and look up at the immense cosmos. It's so beautiful it stops you in your tracks.

Then you begin to think of the power that is manifest in that silent sky, the inconceivable power it would take to call the universe forth out of nothing.

The real beauty that sky discloses is the beauty of Creative Love, the love of the Maker of heaven and earth at work in the beginning of all that is.

Creative love shines forth as Redemptive on the face of the Christ who re-makes a world darkened dead by sin.

How beautiful and how powerful is the light of that Love. The night sky reminds us of the Light of Life that shines in our hearts. The darkness cannot overcome it.

In Christ Jesus,

Bishop Liam Cary
